1 Speak and Read

a Look at the picture of Anais and Ana. What's their family relationship?
Read the article and check your answer.

ANAIIS OR ANA?

She's 12 years old. She's got long dark hair and brown eyes. She's got a small nose and a big smile. She hasn't got a big family. She's got a brother. He's 16 and he's got blond hair and blue eyes. She's intelligent and she likes school. She loves animals and she's got a pet cat. Her favourite colour is blue. Her birthday is on 13 March.

Is it Anais or Ana? Well, it's Anais and Ana. They're identical twins. But Anais Cooper lives in Canada and Ana Brandt lives in Germany. Why do they live in different countries? Because they're adopted. Here's their story.

It's 13 March, 2005 in Tianjin, China. A mother has identical twin girls. Six months later Anais's parents travel from Canada to adopt her. Ana's parents travel from Germany to adopt her.

Anais and Ana are twin sisters but they've got different families and live in different countries. They're identical twins with a difference!

8 Read

a Read the magazine article. Which countries have different pets from the pets people have in Britain?

Different cultures – different pets

In Britain, about 50% of homes have got a pet. Almost five million people in Britain have got a cat. Cats, birds and fish are the world's favourite pets.

People in different countries have got different ideas about pets. In many countries dogs are kept as pets, but in Arab countries, for example, dogs are not popular because people believe they aren't clean. And in Africa, very few people have got animals as pets.

fighting cricket

Some people in China and Japan have got small but noisy pets. They aren't cats, fish or budgies: they're fighting crickets. These pets are very noisy!

bear cub

The Inuits of northern Canada keep bear cubs, foxes and baby seals. They look after them until the animals grow up.

fox

baby seal

budgie

kangaroo

Madagascar hissing cockroach

Another example of an unusual pet is the 'Madagascar hissing cockroach'. It's quite big. It's clean and doesn't bite, and it sometimes makes a loud noise. Madagascar hissing cockroaches make good pets for children. In Australia and Indonesia, some people have got 'sugar gliders'. They are marsupials (that means they have got a pocket or 'pouch' for their babies – like a kangaroo) and they 'fly' from tree to tree.

sugar glider

b Read the text again. Answer the questions.

1. What type of bird does the text mention?
2. What are the three most popular pets in the world?
3. Where have people got crickets as pets?
4. Where have people got baby seals as pets?
5. Do hissing cockroaches bite?
6. What have kangaroos and sugar gliders both got?

c What pets are popular in your country?

9 Write

a Read Anna's descriptions of her brother and her best friend. Match the descriptions with the pictures. Write the numbers in the boxes.

1 My brother's name's Matt, and he's 15. He wears glasses and he's got brown eyes and short brown hair. He really likes music. His favourite band is Red Hot Chili Peppers.

2 My best friend's name is Davide and he's 14. He's from France but he lives in London. He's good-looking and he's got short black hair and green eyes. He has got a pet cat called Luc. He likes sports and he plays tennis and football.

b Write two short descriptions of your friends or family. Use Anna's texts to help you.
